About Conference

The conference seeks to delve into emerging technological advancements such as Artificial Intelligence, IoT, and Blockchain that are revolutionizing service-driven industries.

Distinguished academicians and industry leaders will contribute through their insightful research papers, real-world case studies, and engaging panel discussions. It aims to create a collaborative platform for students, professionals, and scholars to exchange innovative ideas and practical solutions.

This academic gathering aspires to bridge the gap between theory and practice across hospitality, tourism, and interdisciplinary domains. Participants will gain exposure to transformative trends shaping the future of global service sectors.

Conference Objectives

- To create a collaborative platform for academia and industry, fostering the exchange of ideas through research presentations, case studies and practical insights that connect theoretical frameworks with real-world applications across interdisciplinary domains.
- To evaluate the transformative impact of digital advancements on workforce structures, operational patterns, consumer behavior and service delivery models in hospitality and tourism with a special emphasis on post-pandemic adaptation and long-term sectoral resilience in line with ever evolving technologies.
