Anjuman-I-Islam's College of Hotel & Tourism Management Studies & Research Library is partially automated using E-Granthalaya, an open-source Integrated Library Management System (ILMS) developed by the National Informatics Centre (NIC). This system enables the library to efficiently manage a variety of operations such as cataloguing, membership management, issue and return tracking, and generating reports on borrowed and received books. It significantly streamlines library functions and provides a more organized and accessible service to its users.

In addition to the automated system, the Library offers a wide collection of resources to support the academic curriculum and research activities. The Library also provides remote access to question papers, syllabi, daily news, and other learning materials, allowing students and faculty to use these resources anytime and from anywhere. This ensures that essential academic content remains accessible even outside the physical boundaries of the college campus, thereby enhancing learning opportunities.

The Library occupies 1,060 square feet and is located on the first floor of the college building, making it easily accessible from all corners of the campus. It is designed to accommodate 50 students and 10 faculty members at any given time, ensuring adequate seating and resource availability for all users. The Library is equipped with dedicated research computers connected to high-speed internet, enabling students, faculty, and researchers to carry out their academic activities efficiently.

To further enhance the user experience, "The Library has also established an E-Library section with four dedicated computers that provide free internet access for students and staff, enabling them to access online resources and use the OPAC efficiently."

Regarding library expenditure, records of purchases—books, journals, and other resources—are carefully maintained through audited statements of expenses. Currently, the Library does not find it necessary to invest in paid subscriptions to e-resources, as the wide range of open-access materials available online sufficiently meets the needs of both students and faculty.

In the future, we are planning to subscribe to academic databases that will help the Library provide more efficient services to students, even when they are studying from home.

E-Granthalya Library Software- Home

The library uses e-Granthalya, Integrated Library Management System for library data management. It is user friendly and cost effective. The current version of the software is 3.0. It provides a built-in OPAC. The OPAC module of the software allows for a full search of the library database by entering preferred terms, making information retrieval a seamless process. The Circulation module of the software covers all circulatory operations; from creating member records to printing reminders for outstanding books. The Database Maintenance module includes operations of database creation and maintenance. It uses the acquisition module for data on recently acquired books.
